

Deutsche Gesellschaft der Humboldtianer

Regionalgruppe Göttingen/Kassel

Göttingen, 14 August 2020

Invitation to hike around Nikolausberg

Dear members of the Humboldt club, dear Humboldtians, dear hosts, unfortunately, the restrictions due to the Coronavirus pandemic led to the cancellation or postponement of several events. Therefore, we are particularly glad to invite you to an extended stroll around Nikolausberg. We will walk some 7 km including 100 m ascent in about two hours.

We will meet on Sunday September 6, 2020, at 2 pm in front of the reception at the Max Planck Institute for biophysical Chemistry, Am Faßberg 11, next to the bus stop „Am Faßberg“, reached by the bus lines 21, 22 and 23.

We will walk along agricultural trails past the gardening society Nikolausberg to the Rieswarte, further to Nikolausberg's sporting club and via the Bärenberg to the bus stop „Ulrideshuser Straße“, which is served by the bus lines 21 and 22. Please take beverages and snacks with you because there are no restaurants along our way.

The hike can be extended by a stroll through the University's botanic garden am Faßberg or finished with beverages in a beer garden.

If you, your partner and/or your family would like to follow our invitation, please register by e-mail to marcel.leutenegger@mpibpc.mpg.de and mwalter@uni-goettingen.de until Friday September 4, 2020. If you need to cancel, please inform us no later than two hours before departure. Emergency contact: +49 176 8308 7287.

Looking forward to meet you,
sincerely yours,

Dr. Marcel Leutenegger
Sprecher der Regionalgruppe
Max-Planck-Institut für biophysikalische Chemie
Abteilung NanoBiophotonik
Am Faßberg 11
37077 Göttingen
marcel.leutenegger@mpibpc.mpg.de

Prof. Dr. Matthias Waltert
Stellvertretender Sprecher
Conservation Biology/Workgroup on Endangered Species
Faculty of Biology and Psychology, University of Göttingen
Bürgerstraße 50
37073 Göttingen
mwalter@uni-goettingen.de